ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard, of South Stratford, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary by a reception at their home Monday evening, October 30.

A stranger hired a team of James Skillens in Island Pond Hollow on night to go to the iron bridge, about a mile out of the village, and has since disappeared, although heard from at Caswell's Mills the following day. Sheriff Stevens is in pursuit.

The Hibbard & Perkins Shoe company, who have conducted a manufacturing business in Burlington expect to close the factory this week. Most of their men severed their connection with the company Saturday night and have taken positions elsewhere.

Passed Assistant Paymaster G. P. Auld, U. S. N., who left Burlington Sunday evening for New York city after a visit with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Auld, learned before going that he was no longer a passed assistant paymaster with the rank of junior lieutenant, but that he had been advanced to the grade of a full lieutenant in the navy as an assistant paymaster. The promotion is to date from July 30, 1905, and is one of the first official acts of the new assistant secretary of the navy.

Fair Haven Business Men Organize.

An organization has been formed by the merchants and business men of Fair Haven under the name of Fair Haven Business Men's Association. Meetings will be held the first Friday of each month. The purpose is to encourage the establishment of new industries, and to make proper efforts to develop the manufacturing and business interests of Fair Haven. Following are the officers: President, F. H. Shephard; vice president, Hugh T. Jones; secretary, Herbert W. Smith; treasurer, W. F. Parker; executive committee, Oliver A. Proctor, D. E. Carmody, and A. L. Minch.

Strange Accident to Engineer.

William Kelley, engineer of the way freight between Richmond and Island Pond met with a terrible accident at Sherbrooke, Que., Monday morning last week in a peculiar manner. He was riding, and while screwing on a cup on the side of the rod of the engine the wrench slipped from his hand and he fell backward across the Boston & Maine train. A section man saw his predicament and immediately pulled him from his perilous position, but his head struck against the oil box of the car, his ear was partly torn off, a serious gash was cut in the side of his head, and he was rendered unconscious. With all possible speed he was removed to the Protestant hospital. His condition is most critical, concussion of the brain is feared from the blow on the head. He recovered consciousness for a minute Wednesday, faintly recognizing his wife and then again became unconscious.

A Touching Incident of Miss Webb's Wedding.

On the morning of the wedding, having missed the early train to Shelburne, I rode as far as the car went and then proceeded cheerfully, on foot, hoping to arrive at Shelburne in time to catch a glimpse of the bride. I had gone about two miles when, as the farmers say, "I got a lift." There was a woman and boy in the carriage, and I soon learned that they too were bound for the wedding. "Oh," said the woman, "isn't it grand that Miss Frederica have such a fine day for her wedding?" Ah, thought I, these people evidently know Miss Webb. "I was up at four o'clock this morning," continued the woman, "to see if she have a nice day for her wedding. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. I was afraid it might rain, and I pray she have a bright day for her wedding, and when I see the sun, O I was so glad." "Then you know Miss Webb," I ventured. "No, I don't know her, I never seen her, but she so good an kind, and not proud, everybody love her. She's so kind to everybody, they all so kind to everybody. I think I must come to this wedding. I never want to go to anything so much before, but I just feel I must come!" I shall never forget the woman's look of disappointment when we reached Shelburne and learned that the bride party had just gone. "An' I didn't see her!" said she. I took her into the church after the guests had departed and broke a few sprigs of green from the decorations and gave her, and took her to see the bride's kneeling cushion and explained that it was the same cushion that Mrs. Webb used when she was married, and the woman reached out a thin, toil-worn hand and touched the cushion gently and a smile lighted up her face. "Ain't it lovely!" said she. I invited her to accept the hospitality of a friend's house. "Oh, thank you, no; I must go right back to the city. My son leave his work to bring me, he see I want to come so much. Ain't it grand to have such a bright day for her wedding? O I'm so glad!" And the woman drove away with a smile on her care-worn face and the sprig of green from the wedding in her hand.—Burlington Free Press.

"Hot Drops" Poultry Food.

Most poultry foods contain some "hot drops" concoction that temporarily warms up the fowls and perhaps increases egg production for a brief time, but soon leaves the hens worse off than before. Eva A. Bond of East Jefferson, Maine, has evidently found a food of a different nature. Read her letter: "I have used your Perfect Poultry Food for two years and feel satisfied it is one of the best on the market."

Man's Unreasonableness

is often as great as woman's. But Thomas S. Austin, manager of the "Republican" of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "he concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave her bed and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters she was perfectly cured and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy and Parlor Drug Store. Price 50c.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mansell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Rickert & Wells, Special Agents.

OBITUARY RECORD.

Warren Bullard Hurlburt.

The death of Warren Bullard Hurlburt, an old and highly esteemed resident of Burlington, occurred last evening about nine o'clock at his home, 19 West-on street. Mr. Hurlburt had been ill with enlargement and valvular disease of the heart. Mr. Hurlburt lived until the 19th inst., he would have reached his 63rd year.

Mr. Hurlburt was born in Ripton. His early life was spent in that village and later he moved to Weybridge, where for many years he carried on a farm. Twenty years ago he received a position as postal clerk and in 1894 moved to this city. During the Civil War he enlisted in 1861, as a private in Company K, 2nd Vermont infantry, and served through all of the non-commissioned officers' grades. In 1864 he reached the grade of captain and took command of Company D, 2nd Vermont infantry, serving through the remainder of the war. He participated in 23 battles and engagements, among them being Bull Run, Lee's Mills, Williamsburg, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, Battle of the Wilderness, Cedar Creek and others. For his gallant service and meritorious conduct he was specially recognized by Governor John W. Stewart the document, being officially signed by General William Wells, under date of July 4, 1871. Mr. Hurlburt was a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion and a prominent Mason.

He is survived by his wife three sons, Frank and John, who are at present in San Francisco, Cal., and one daughter, Mrs. Susan Martin of Honeybrook, Pa., and Miss Ada, who arrived in Burlington Saturday morning from Paterson, N. J., where she has been teaching school. Three brothers also survive, Hiram of Buffalo, N. Y., and Oliver and Henry, who are in the Far West.
